ART GLASS CONFECTIONS: KEEP THEM . . . DON'T EAT THEM

A New Website for the Art Loving Chocoholic

“Cupcakes are Hot!” – imagine the amount of heat required to create them out of solid glass. Malmseys.com is a new website featuring exquisitely indulgent art glass chocolates and cupcakes beyond the norm. Hulet Glass has partnered with Malmseys.com to make the entire Hulet Glass Collection available online.

Malmseys.com features art glass chocolates that are reminders of favorite sweets from childhood along with colorful confections that one could only dream about. There is even a bitten piece of glass chocolate with ants crawling over it – ugh!

The website contains beautiful photographs of over 250 glass chocolate and cupcake designs. These small works of art are showcased in the photo gallery with high resolution images available.

The name “malmseys” refers to a robust sweet wine that is a favorite drink with chocolate desserts. It seems to be the perfect, although admittedly quirky, name for a website that offers a beautiful yet somewhat esoteric gift for the eternal chocoholic.

Hulet Glass is a very small family business that is composed of sisters Dinah and Patty Hulet and Dinah’s daughter Robin Culbertson who recently joined them. The glass confections are individually created in the family’s home studio on the northern California coast.

Fine gift shops and galleries have been carrying Hulet Glass for more than 25 years and the work now attracts a growing group of collectors who appreciate both chocolate and beautifully crafted art glass. The Hulet sisters’ almost 30 years of experience in working with art glass has resulted in delectable collectables that are created to tease, seduce, tempt and delight - chocolate and art glass . . . what's not to love?
